

soon became apparent that he needed to stand at a breeding facility for his 2003 breeding season. As a mare owner and a business owner, Becky felt that a total dedication to customer service and the ability to ship fresh and frozen semen to mares all over the world were the top goals for this young stallion. This led her to choose DeGraff Stables, which is located in Port Clinton, Ohio, in close proximity to a major airport, and has developed the precise collection, lab, and logistical processes required to ensure top quality results. Hands-on management, attention to detail, progressive ideas, and the commitment to continual learning were important to Becky. She found that the philosophies at DeGraff Stables matched her own.

Robin DeGraff and Indian Artifacts, at home in Ohio.

Robin and husband, David Dooge, have devoted their energies to building and operating a world-class breeding facility to specialize in mare and foal care and in shipping fresh cooled semen. The newly installed state-of-the-art lab, breeding room and storage area allows them to follow exacting procedures to properly handle and ship both cooled semen and frozen semen.

The amenities at DeGraff Stables include individual turnouts, large well ventilated stalls in heated barns, indoor arena, camera monitoring, and other features that provide the mare owner with a feeling of security about the health and well-being of their valuable animals during their stay. If mare owners choose to keep their mare at home and receive shipped semen, cooperation and communication with the mare owner and their veterinarian has proved successful in achieving first cycle pregnancy rates that are among the best in the industry.

Robin and David credit their success to a hard-working staff, including their veterinarian partners. In addition to daily standard reproductive procedures, they offer a recipient mare herd for embryo transfer and the technology for freezing embryos. Since the new rule change for AQHA, mare owners that select the stallions Indian Artifacts and One Hot Krymsun will have these capabilities right on site.

Indian Artifacts at the 1999 Congress

The association of DeGraff Stables with Karen Berk, Equine Reproductive Services offers stallion owners in the geographical region of DeGraff Stables the opportunity for freezing and storing frozen semen on a regular basis through the year. Karen will hold her Second Annual "Advanced Technologies in Reproduction" Clinic at DeGraff Stables on Jan. 11 and 12.

Finding, raising and promoting "Chief" and "Jet" to their World Championship wins have been facilitated by lessons learned through many hours with their other businesses. The accomplishments to date are but a few of the visions that Robin and Becky hold for their future in breeding top horses. Truly, the stallions "Indian Artifacts" and "One Hot Krymsun" offer the pleasure horse industry "The Best of Both Worlds".

For More Information:

Visit <http://www.WhatIWork4.com> and <http://www.one-hotkrymsun.com> or call DeGraff Stables at (419) 797-8032. Robin and Becky also invite you to visit them on Stallion Avenue during Congress.

DeGraff Stables offers state of the art breeding technology.